The Conference will be of interest to a range of officers and elected members in various areas including: education, cultural services, leisure and recreation departments and general policy units.

A full programme and booking forms will be issued in the near future but in the meantime your assistance in distributing these flyers would be appreciated. Thank you for your co-operation.

COSLA/SALVO Conference 1995

New Structures - New Opportunities The Arts without Tiers

Following the last two successful joint COSLA/SALVO conferences, a third event has been organised to address the role of the arts in the new councils. The event, which will take the form of a practical day during which information will be given and views exchanged, will take place in the Station Hotel, Perth, on 19 September 1995. The cost of the day is £40 (plus VAT) for arts organisations and £100 (plus VAT) for local authorities.

The day will be of interest to local authorities, arts organisations and independent observers with experience and knowledge of the cultural sector and it will address the problems and opportunities likely to arise in the new councils.

If you are interested in being involved in this vital day, please complete and return the tear-off slip expressing your interest. Further details including a full programme will then be posted to you.

I would be interested in attending the COSLA/SALVO conference on 19 September 1995. Please send me further details:
