St Andrew's Hospice Visit

A representative from St Andrew's hospice came to talk about the work of the hospice and in particular funding including an ambitious plan to stage a cycling event which will involve road closures in Cumbernauld. He explained the processes involved and how information on the closures would be made available. The Community council agreed it was an exciting event and agreed to advertise it when posters became available.

There were no police officers in attendance and so there was no police report.

Secretary's Report

A written report was tabled (attached). NHS Lanarkshire's strategic review and forward planning was discussed in some detail. Some key themes were agreed for feedback including the lack of transport, Cumbernauld being on the periphery of essential services and the non patient centred approach taken.

CVAC Report

Continued efforts are going on in getting the inside of the cabin up to scratch and Nancy has been exploring costings for getting an electricity supply. Kenny McEwan has done a great deal of sterling electrical piping work in preparation for which CVAC are very grateful.

Ann reported that there had been £576 of calendar sales and that the enterprise was well worth repeating next year and she made an appeal for more people to get involved in selling.

Plans for a summer fete have been shelved for lack of volunteers.

Philip reported that there will be a NLC Langriggs management plan and Toby Nevitt is consulting with CVAC on this. This will involve issues such as should any trees be removed?, what should be done about the hedging? CVAC will be discussing too what NLC, CVAC/VCC can reasonably do.

AOB

The buses from Croy don't run to the train timetable and it was suggested that we write to Jamie Hepburn about that.

Ann raised the dereliction of the Springfield Rd playpark and whether or not the community could do it up. Brenda agreed to explore the case of a similar play park elsewhere.
